OUR TOWN

Indications are Milam county's cotton crop will sell for five millions this year. This estimate is based on a 50,000 bale crop. Men in touch with the production situation believe the crop will reach this figure. Heavy liquidation in 1927 and the frugality of farmers as well as business men during 1928 with less money borrowed at the banks, should find many with surplus to begin the new year with. Prosperity should again return to Milam.

This column congratulates the party on its selection of finance director for Milam County. Giles L. Avriett has the confidence of his fellow democrats, is a strong and original advocate of Governor Smith and will inspire support for the national ticket in the county. He is a regular in his political faith and his close touch with politics in Milam County will greatly assist the program of the party for a large vote for the nominees in November.

Here is one successful way to encourage buying at home. Jake Posey of the Model Bakery has placed a new loaf on the market, a product of his ovens and made by new mixing machinery just installed. This bread now equals that of any shipped to Cameron from the so called big bakers in the city. Jake is to be congratulated. He says his bread sales have reached new high marks and it is observed that the bread trucks from the cities call less frequently at the door of the merchants. No Cameron product should be inferior to any and Jake has met and conquered the outside competition.

Clinton S. Carnes, missing treasurer of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, it has just been revealed, left a shortage of more than a million dollars in his accounts running over a period of several years. Since his disappearance on August 15 it is made public that he has served two prison terms for fraudulent use of the mails. The church funds with which he dealt came from nickels, pennies and dimes given by children and adult communicants of the church. It is now disclosed that he operated a large real estate concern in Atlanta, a brick plant in North Carolina and an automatic carlock company in Chattanooga. He joined the leading clubs and lived in a $50,000 villa in an exclusive section there. No doubt all of this display of wealth impressed the leaders that Carnes was a 'substantial contribution to the work.' Whatever might be said to the detriment of Brother Carnes, it is certain that his prohibition record cannot be questioned and he is opposed to Governor Smith.

Gaston Barmore has brought a unique and valuable industry to Cameron in the Modern Auto Paint Shop. Refinishing furniture in the celebrated lacquers will find much interest among home owners. The painting industry has been brought to a fine state of perfection as well as other lines of business in the progress that has engaged the country in the last decade. Mr. Barmore is to be congratulated on his industry.

William Allen White who attacked Governor Smith and was cheered on by the fanatics and who later withdrew his charges and then withdrew his withdrawal is now in Europe. White who is a celebrated biographer and novelist as well as historian seems to have suffered some severe reverses in his comments. For instance, before the Republican convention in his own paper the Emporia Gazette, he denounced Mr. Hoover as a "timid, fat cat." Senator Curtis, the nominee of his home state for vice president, he called a "nitwit," and one of those who are "grinding the people." He said, "Curtis of Kansas is a disgrace. He is the errand boy of the big interests. Whenever the railroads have needed a vote in the United States Senate, Charlie Curtis furnished that vote." At the same time he said of Governor Smith: "There is not in American life today a clearer, stronger, more accurately working brain in any man's head than Al Smith's brain. His processes of thought are logical and he has the courage to defend them." Going on, he concludes, "Smith is human, affectionate, wise, brave and sincere."

ESTIMATED VALUE COTTON CROP 5 MILLIONS

ELECTRIC LIGHT RATES FOR CAMERON REDUCED

JOHN C. YOUNG, MANAGER ANNOUNCES NEW RATES FOR T. P. & L.

Electric light rates for residential and commercial customers in Cameron will be reduced effective with the bills sent out October 1. J. C. Young, district manager of the Texas Power and Light Company, announced yesterday. This is the second reduction in electric rates made by the company since it took over the local light plant.

The new rate for residential customers will be 12 1-2c per kilowatt, as compared with the present rate of 14c per kilowatt. At the time the Texas Power and Light Company took over the local plant, the rate was cut from 15c to 14c as soon as the high-voltage transmission line was completed into Cameron. The new rate for commercial lighting is 10c per kilowatt, reduced from 14c per kilowatt.

"This reduction in the electric rates in Cameron has been under consideration for several weeks and is due to increased efficiency of high line service over isolated plant service," Mr. Young declared. This reduction in rates will materially lower the cost of lighting for stores and will enable the local merchants and business houses to use considerably more lighting in the future for the same total cost as in the past.

"At the same time that the company is lowering the rates, electric service to Cameron will be made more flexible with the completion of the new high voltage line which provides Cameron with an additional source of electric power. Instead of having to depend only on an isolated local generating plant, Cameron now has electric service equal to that of any large city in Texas, with electricity available in any quantity needed from the high-voltage lines.

"This abundance of power available should be a strong factor in bringing additional industries to Cameron, for ample power resources are the first consideration in locating a factory. The Texas Power and Light Company stands ready to aid Cameron in any project to bring factories here or help in any project for the upbuilding of the community."

THREE ESCAPE INJURY IN CAR CRASH ON THE GAUSE ROAD

Clyde Wilson, deputy sheriff of Gause, was in an automobile wreck Wednesday afternoon when the Chevrolet touring car in which he was riding crashed with a Ford Coupe on the road from Cameron to Gause. Bill Bailey and B. Folmer were in the car with Wilson when the accident occurred at an intersection of the road one-half mile east of Cameron. Both cars were badly damaged, but neither of the occupants were harmed.

WHAT'S RIGHT WITH THE AMERICAN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

By T. A. FISHER

With the approach of another school session the question of the value of school training will present itself with renewed importance to the minds of all thinking people.

Here are a few fundamental principles that would serve well as a guide to the thinking of the average citizen on the American public free schools.

First. It should be remembered that the United States is the first nation in the history of the world, so far as has been determined, to undertake the daring experiment of providing free, tax-supported schools for all the children of all the people, regardless of wealth, parentage or economic and social status.

Second. We should keep in mind that the American public school system is based upon sound democratic principles of freedom and equality, especially equality of opportunity for the youth of the land.

Third. The American public school is supported by public taxation; and it is well to keep in mind that the idea of supporting public schools through a system of public taxation was fought out in America with controversial vigor such as has characterized few public questions, prohibition not excepted.

Intelligent men have come to realize that without trained intelligence, for which the school lays the foundation, most of our wealth would be impossible. The people have definitely determined, therefore, that it is proper that a small part of the wealth which this institution plays so great a part in creating should be set aside for its maintenance. The acceptance of this principle, however, is recent; less than a century ago Henry Barnard, a prominent educational leader, was threatened with personal violence for advocating such heresy as the taxation of one man's property to educate his neighbor's children.

Fourth. We should keep in mind that the American public school is controlled, by all the people. No upper class dictates what shall be taught in America's class rooms, and no special group declares its policies.

Fifth. The American school offers a complete education. In the eighteenth century these statements appeared in American publications:

"Reading, writing and arithmetic are very necessary to those whose business requires such qualifications; but where people's livelihood has no dependence on these arts, they are very pernicious to the poor, who are

TERRACING SCHOOL IS WELL ATTENDED HERE

"DAD" SHORT INSPIRES FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN IN TALK

A well attended and enthusiastic meeting was held in the City Park last Friday afternoon when the terracing school announced the previous week was held.

M. R. Bentley of A. & M. College and "Dad" Short of the Federal Land Bank of Houston were the principal speakers of the school and a demonstration in terracing was held at the Michalka farm following the school.

"Time has come when a large number of farmers must sell out, starve on a straight row or terrace and follow a curve around the hill. In this section," said Mr. Short, "a great portion of the land is bare in winter and the rains that fall are lost and the top soil washed away. Cover crops have been advocated as a fundamental of land preservation since Bible days."

Discussing the root rot situation Mr. Short declared that crop rotation is the remedy and that salvation for the farmers also lies in better live stock on the farms as added revenue.

Among the out of town farmers attending were County Agent J. M. Parks of Bell County; E. M. Regener of Marlin, Falls County; G. W. Stinnett of Robertson county and Mr. Her of Thorndale.

The elder O'Bryan and Mr. Henderson were students at Baylor. Mr. Henderson has been ill for several months and his friends came to see him for the day. In company with Miss Mary Lake Henderson, they called at the Herald plant. A sister, Willie Henderson Porter of Oklahoma is named for the Henderson family.

WATER PLANT TO GET FILTERING SYSTEM

BEAUTIFYING PROPERTY AND EXTENDING PUMP LINE INCLUDED IN PLANS

Extensive improvements in the water system for Cameron including filters is now in prospect, according to J. Z. Martin, state manager of the Texas Water Utilities Company, a unit of the General Waterworks Corporation of New York, who was in Cameron last week looking over the property purchased from the Cameron Water Company.

It is said that in the plans for improvements that moving of the standpipe is considered, though as yet nothing definite has been decided upon. The installation of filters for the water supply will give the city a clear as well as a sanitary water supply.

Mr. Martin stated that his company will probably extend the pumping main so as to get more and clearer water, build a cyclone fence around the settling basins, and park the grounds both here and at the pumping plant, making them highly attractive and clean. This company's plant at Breckenridge is so attractive with shrubs, flowers and lawns that people gather there from far and near and enjoy the shade and beauty of the premises.

The company has a nursery at Breckenridge from which many beautiful shrubs will be sent to Cameron for planting this fall and next spring.

Mr. Martin also stated that the company has in view the erection of a building in which to install a rapid sand filter, which will give Cameron as clear and healthful water as any city in Texas can boast. This improvement, which will cost approximately $25,000, may be completed within the next year, but the appropriation is yet to be made and is a prospect only at this time Mr. Martin was careful to say.

Legionaries Attend State Convention

HOOVER ENVOYS GET NO ENCOURAGEMENT

VISIT CAMERON BUT CANNOT AS YET GET ORGANIZATION STARTED

The Herald is privileged to state on unquestioned authority that attempts to organize a Milam County Hoover club has met with no success to-date.

Representatives of the Republican candidates, said to be bolting democrats, have been in Cameron, but it is said no encouragement has been given them in their efforts to organize for the Republican ticket.

Milam County will go Democratic as usual. Plans by the Democratic organization to give the nominees a big majority vote in November will soon be under way.

Old Time Blacksmith Now Has A Modern Filling Station

Lou Meyers, the old time blacksmith who for 55 years has been continuously engaged in business in Cameron, is now proprietor of a modern filling station adjoining his shop, made necessary by the advancing age.

Mr. Meyers was born in 1858 in a pioneer home within a stone's throw of the court house steps and first began his business career in 1873. His father, a hardy pioneer, died in 1870 and his mother died in 1873. In that year he became an apprentice at blacksmithing. For two years he engaged in the meat business. Cattle free on the range were slaughtered by all meat sellers but a stringent law passed about that era caused many to suspend. The beef was peddled in

Except for six years in the mercantile business he has since been engaged in blacksmithing. The filling station is operated in connection with the blacksmith shop, the latter place being operated by Mr. Copus.

Judd G. Davis Named Member School Board

Judd G. Davis, former mayor of Cameron, has been appointed member of the school board by Mayor W. W. Chambers to succeed E. A. Wallace who has resigned on account of the employment of a relative to teach in the schools.

Mr. Wallace has been a member of the board for several terms and is considered one of the best authorities on public school systems in Texas. He has given the schools much valuable time and thought.

Mr. Davis as Mayor was in close touch with the schools and will make a valuable member of the board.

Burglar Takes Big Haul From Safe Of The City Market

Burglars Sunday night opened the safe of the City Market operated by D. B. Worcester and Son and took near $600 in checks and money, making their escape and up to this hour no arrests have been made but it was said that strong clues are held by officers.

The burglars forced open the rear door and worked the combination to the safe, no explosives being used.

This is the first burglary reported here of consequence in several months. The approximate hour of the theft has not been determined. It is thought that someone who had knowledge of the business transacted that day at the market is responsible for the robbery.

Post Commander Here Honored By Place On Allenby Committee

John B. Henderson, post commander of Edwin Hardy Post No. 9 has been honored by Walter D. Hood by appointment to the special committee to entertain General Allenby of Great Britain at the National Legion Convention in San Antonio next month.

General Allenby who liberated Jerusalem in the word war was one of the outstanding cavalry leaders of the allied armies and his exploit through the campaign in the holy lands stands out as one of the major achievements of the world war.

Mr. Henderson will represent Texas on that committee to entertain the British General.

CROP BEING GATHERED AND MARKED RAPIDLY WITH GOOD WEATHER

Up to two o'clock Thursday 7000 bales of 1928 crop cotton had been received in Cameron.

Cotton is coming in at the rate of nearly 650 bales each day with all gins running at capacity.

Continued good weather enables the farmers to gather rapidly and indications are that the harvest season will be well over by mid October.

Estimates place the 1928 crop at 50,000 bales. This will be an average crop for Milam county although 20,000 bales short of the 1927 crop.

Lions Hear Talk By Member of Animal Industry Bureau

Encouragement of live stock and dairying interests is a sure way to prosperity and relief from the one crop system, members of the Lions Club were told Tuesday at the weekly luncheon by E. Pickering of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington.

Mr. Pickering took note of the progress being made here by the people in the building of a cheese factory and said that this was an encouraging sign to diversification.

Speaking of the infestation of fever tick he said that he had visited practically every section of Milam county and in his opinion no serious difficulty will be experienced in this work.

Another feature of the program was readings by Mrs. A. B. Guinn now in Cameron for the Style Show being arranged by the Christian church.

SCHOOL OPENS HERE ON SEPTEMBER 10

VACATION DAYS ARE OVER AND CHILDREN MUST AGAIN BE SERIOUS

Vacation days are over and the children must again be serious, for at least nine months, for school begins on Tuesday, September 10.

Superintendent T. A. Fisher has put the house in order for the coming term. The faculty, numbering some of the best qualified educators in the country, are on the ground ready for the opening session next Tuesday.

The beginning of the new term will be under the formality of the usual opening program with members of the board present and addresses by prominent citizens.

One of the outstanding hopes for the year for athletics is a winning football team. L. Van Perkins who has coached the team for a number of years, will again have charge, but a policy of the board prevents him devoting his entire time to the work of coach. His work in this connection will be a portion of time away from more pressing duties as principal of the high school.

In this issue Mr. Fisher has an interesting and well presented discussion of the schools of America. Parents should read this article.

Former Milam County Man Held on Murder Charges In Dallas

V. R. Adams held in Dallas for the killing of O. L. Matthews, is a former resident of the San Gabriel community in the late years moving to Bartlett in Williamson County.

Adams shot Matthews to death on a down town business street Saturday morning. In a statement to police he declared Matthews had attempted to make him leave the city after he had asked for money bet on the election of Tom Connally. Matthews was said to be stake holder and had paid over the money to another on the basis of a telegram which was said to have been faked by another. Adams bore a good reputation while in Milam county and is so considered at Bartlett.

NEW SENIOR GIVES DODGE BROTHERS WIDE SIX LINE

With the introduction of the New Senior Six by Sapp Motor Company and announcement of improvements in the body lines of the Standard and Victory Sixes, Dodge Brothers offers these complete lines of sixes covering a price range from $275 to $1,000.

In the announcement of the Standard Six last March, the company completed its transition from the four to six cylinder field in less than a year after the Senior, the first Dodge Brothers six was announced. Such enthusiastic public reception and approval met the first Dodge six, that last January the company announced the Victory Six to the nation by a coast to coast radio hookup. Less than three months later, a similar announcement introduced the Standard Six, and marked the possibility of the four cylinder cars.

Manufacturing schedules of the three lines of sixes has steadily been increased to meet the demand for the company's cars until August set a new record of approximately 25,000 units of passenger and commercial vehicles.

In presenting the three lines of Six, the company officials cite the wide range of types that offer the maximum of style and performance regardless of price.

"The present Dodge cars constitute greatest automotive value ever offered in the fourteen years of the company's history," said John E. Lee, general sales manager. "Style and performance have been built into cars that have gained a world wide reputation for stamina and dependability, and the company offers a service and dealer organization unequalled in scope by any manufacturer of six cylinder cars."

CLASS PARTY

Mrs. B. M. Burns Sr., with members of her group were hostesses to the T. E. L. class in the hospitable home of Mrs. Bertha Brewer last Friday afternoon. As the guests entered the well appointed living room the hostesses regaled them with pineapple ice which was greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. John L. Denson led the devotional reading with the eleventh chapter of Hebrews. Her comments on faith were interesting and inspirational.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Sawyer, who introduced the plan of systematic giving and the same was thoroughly discussed by all present. Mrs. Geo. McFadden read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved. The reports show a steady gain in personal service and benevolence. A card of thanks has been received for the box of linen sent to the Baptist hospital at Houston.

September is the month to elect new officers and a committee of three were appointed to recommend them. Seventeen members were present including several honorary members. During the social hour refreshments of cake and ice cream was served.

Brenham Host to Good Roads Men

The Brenham Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club were hosts to representatives of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce and to many prominent business men and members of various chambers of commerce from North, South and Central Texas at the St. Anthony Hotel Tuesday at noon. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss plans by which a more just means of taxation could be arranged to enable the construction and maintenance of highways in Texas, this move being sponsored by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Leonard Tillson of Sealy, one of Texas' most outstanding bankers, in discussing the road problem, stated, with a four cent per gallon tax on gasoline as advocated by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in the year 1928 there would be approximately 28 million dollars collected. Ten million dollars would be derived from the license plates and four and one half million from Federal Aid. Allowing one fourth for the school fund 21 million would be left for roads. Should a similar policy be adopted, the state could take care of the district bond issues that are in effect and retire these bonds with the money collected in the fore stated manner. Mr. Tillson pointed out that in many instances the state highways run through sections of the country where the land is so poor that sufficient taxation for the upkeep of highways is too burdensome for the people. A much more fair means would be for the travelers to pay the tax rather than for the land owners to do same. The present rate of increase in gas consumption in the state being fifteen per cent a year, starting with 21 million now, within six years time the state will have about 45 million dollars annual income to be spent on roads. Whereas this year the state will only spend nine million dollars. By using a "pay as you go" plan neither the state nor the county would owe a dollar.

Col. Clarence Owsley, stated that the highways should be built and maintained as a means of public service in a way similar to that of the railroads. He further stated that there was not a single complete highway in Texas and that it was an outrage that there was no road leading from Red River to the Gulf that could be traveled in rainy weather. Since 1919 the investment valuation of all agricultural properties in the United States has declined from seventy nine billion to fifty-seven billion dollars. At the same time taxes have increased from three hundred forty-four million to eight hundred million dollars. It is up to the agricultural sections to solve the problem that will save the population from reverting to serfdom.

There are thousands of acres of exhausted timber land now in the state. With the present systems of taxation the owner cannot afford to allow a new growth. This land is not suitable for anything except the growth of timber and a means of reforestation should be adopted. Taxes should be distributed according to the benefits received. The other proposal of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce as set forth by Col. Owsley was to fix in the constitution, taxation against the travelers for the construction and maintenance of the roads, instead of against the land owners. Col. Owsley thought it appropriate for the state to appropriate twenty-five or thirty million dollars one year for the construction of highways, and for the legislature at all times to have check on the funds. In Arkansas, where a five cent per gallon tax on gasoline is charged, complete satisfaction was found by a canvas made by Col. Owsley.

R. E. Scott, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Richmond, Fort Bend County, made a motion that the East Texas Chamber of Commerce cooperate with the people of Richmond in forming a plan by which present prison systems of Richmond might be improved. The motion was unanimously carried. Mr. Scott, while stating that the penitentiary was a necessity said, under present conditions the penitentiary is a menace to the people of Fort Bend County, because no taxes are paid to the county on the sixteen thousand acres on which the prison is located.

Mrs. Elizabeth Burnett left Sunday afternoon for Memphis, Texas, where she will make an extended visit to her son, J. P. Burnett.

NEW ARCADIA THEATRE TO OPEN IN TEMPLE FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7

All roads in Bell, McLennan, Coryell, Falls, Lampasas, Williamson and Milam Counties will lead to Temple on Friday, September 7th. The occasion will be the formal opening of the new Arcadia Theatre, than which, it is said, there is no more beautiful theatre in Central Texas.

The Arcadia is a two floor house whose actual size is believed by its comparatively narrow entrance. This entrance is at right angles to the spacious auditorium whose seating capacity is one thousand, three fourths of which are on the lower floor.

The new theatre is described as one of unusual elegance and of maximum comfort. The special design and makeup of its seating and a giant carrier system of washed air ventilation (whereby clean, pure, cooled find its way out through a series of air is wafted into the auditorium to large concrete ducts under the flooring) are features of the equipment making possible thorough relaxation and complete enjoyment of the entertainment offered.

Another fine feature of equipment is a large Reuter pipe organ—the equivalent of a concert orchestra. Organ presentation of the choicest of motion pictures will be the policy of the theatre, with four program changes per week. And in the very near future Vitaphone and Movietone programs will be offered.

The opening of the Arcadia will be a memorial function which it is hoped many of our readers will attend. Those who cannot attend the opening should plan to visit the new theatre Saturday or Sunday. There will be Sunday performances.

T. S. HENDERSON IS FOR GOVERNOR AL SMITH

T. S. Henderson, Sr., veteran democrat, feels encouraged over the chances of the party to elect Governor Smith to the presidency this fall. He is supporting the governor, although an ardent prohibitionist and one of those who campaigned for its adoption.

Mr. Henderson has been ill at his home for the past three months and is much improved in health and hopes to be up and about his business in a short time. Although his condition at times has been critical he has kept in close touch with developments thru his readings.

"I am for Governor Smith," he says. "You will never find me lining up with the Republicans. Smith will poll a large vote in the doubtful states and his chances seem good to win."

In line with our policy of handling only the best, the exclusive distribution of Eternit Asbestos Shingles in this territory has been secured.

The amazing increase in popularity of asbestos shingles has startled the building trades. This roof—made from asbestos rock and Portland cement, two of nature's indestructible materials—offers a value that is unapproachable.

You should see these shingles.

They are rigid slabs of rock. Although somewhat similar in texture and appearance to slate, Eternits are stronger and do not shatter so easily. And their low cost will surprise you.

Everyone wants a roof that is permanent, fireproof and beautiful. Eternits are everlasting because they are weatherproof. Rain, snow, hail, rot, rust are powerless. Fireproof because they're rock. Rock can't burn. Attractive designs in a variety of colors offer a selection for you to choose the one which will look best on your home.

After considering all asbestos shingles on the market, Eternits were selected. They are made from South African asbestos by the special Eternit process. They are stronger, tougher, easier to apply. That's why we are now offering

MAJ. GEN. ALLEN LEADS VETERANS

Accepts Post at Head of ex-Soldiers' Bureau in Smith Campaign.

Major General Henry T. Allen, Commanding General of the American Army of Occupation in Germany and a popular national military figure, is directing the activities of the Veterans' Bureau of the Democratic National Committee. Major General Allen agreed to head the bureau following a talk with Chairman John J. Raskob.

"I know the soldiers would have a very good friend in Governor Smith," said General Allen. "Moreover, I think Governor Smith appeals to them in a very striking manner by reason of his personality and record. I feel that the soldiers haven't had a very large say in the affairs of the country as compared with what they ordinarily have had after every great war, but, of course, it would be impossible to keep down all the husky men who were organized during the great war and they will be heard from during the coming years."

"The Veterans' Bureau is a division of the campaign which is of very great importance," Chairman Raskob said in announcing the appointment. "The veterans are entitled to know all about the candidate, what he stands for, and the policies of the party, and we are keenly anxious to have an opportunity of telling the veterans what we know about Governor Smith's record and character."

Major General Allen served as Commanding General of the Army of Occupation in Germany for three and one-half years. He was later advisor to the American Ambassador to Great Britain at the conference of Ambassadors in Paris during the Harding administration.

After a distinguished military career General Allen was promoted to Major General just before the United States entered the World War and organized the Ninetieth Division, which he led in the major offensives at St. Mihiel and the Argonne-Meuse. As Commander of the Army of Occupation he was a member of the Inter-Allied Rhine High Commission.

FARM HEAD DEFENDS BOLT TO GOV. SMITH

Peek Tells Gov. Hamill Democratic Party's Pledge Is Ample.

The Democratic party endorsed the equalization fee in principle in the Houston platform. George N. Peek, of Moline, Ill., the chairman of the Committee of Twenty-two of the North Central States Agricultural Conference, declared in a letter to Governor John Hamill of Iowa.

Mr. Peek challenged Governor Hamill to call another conference of Governors of the states represented in the North Central States Agricultural Conference to sit in judgment upon his action in declaring his support of Governor Smith. The letter was in reply to one from Governor Hamill to Mr. Peek in which the Iowa Governor accused him of having gone beyond the power vested in the Committee of Twenty-two in bolting the Republican party.

Governor Hamill in his letter to Mr. Peek said farm relief legislation had been blocked by "politics." Mr. Peek in his letter to Governor Hamill asserted the legislation was blocked by an "unsympathetic" President, with the approval of Mr. Hoover and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

"You say that the Democratic party failed to endorse the equalization fee," wrote Mr. Peek. "To be sure, it did not by name endorse the equalization fee or the McNary-Haugen bill, but it very definitely endorsed the principle of the equalization fee when it said: 'We pledge the party to an earnest endeavor to solve this problem of the distribution of the cost of dealing with crop surpluses over the marketed units of the crop whose producers are benefited by such assistance. The solution of this problem would avoid government subsidy to which the Democratic party always has been opposed and will be a prime and immediate concern of a Democratic administration.'"

"These principles have formed the basis of farm relief that twice passed Congress in legislation, that would have furnished the opportunity for the farmers to get the benefit from tariffs on crops of which we export a surplus—legislation that was passed only to meet twice with the veto of an unsympathetic President who never advanced a constructive proposal himself addressing the problem. And this in the face of the platform pledges of his party upon which he was elected to take whatever steps are necessary to bring about a balanced condition between agriculture, industry and labor."

JUNIOR CHOIR PICNIC

Last Thursday afternoon from four to six o'clock Mrs. J. A. Sustek assisted by Miss Bess DuBois, Junior Choir leader, entertained with a picnic at Wayside for the Junior Choir of the Baptist church. They met at the park and played games of various kinds. H. P. Black directed a Volley Ball contest which was most popular among the young people.

A delightful picnic supper with the following menu was served: Fried chicken, sandwiches, potato chips, olives pickles, cake and lemonade.

Attending the picnic were: Beulah Collier, Maurine Leonard, Fannie Mae Reese, Alice and Myra Lee Fanning, Bessie King, Imogene Sapp, Ida Byrd Mayfield, Marjorie Dusek, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Black and two sons, Norman and Lester and little Viola Sustek.

The Junior choir is a new organization of the church and is doing splendid work under the direction of Miss DuBois. The chief work of the choir has been to relieve the regular choir members from duty at the evening services during the summer months. They have rendered excellent music in this capacity and their special music has been a treat for the congregation.

RESISTANCE

The professional criminal goes or stays where he can operate with least risk. New York points with satisfaction to the great reduction of major crimes as a result of the Baumes laws. Michigan, adopting a similar code, has gotten rid of many of its most dangerous criminals. Even Chicago has improved because of somewhat more effective enactments by the last Illinois legislature.

One advantage in dealing with criminals in Illinois is that the law refuses bail to a convicted person of established criminal record pending appeal. Even a person of such record, merely charged with a new major crime, must be denied bail pending a review of the evidence against him. The court has no discretion if the evidence of criminal record is completely established. In most states freedom under bonds goes so far as to give freedom and frequently complete escape to criminals of record.

Law revision always has been a slow process. There still lingers the mythical innocent who may be unjustly punished, and the possibility weighs heavily in favor of the guilty who escape. Every state should have in approximate form a code like that of New York. There should be no soft spots in the law or in procedure anywhere for the high handed criminal.

Major crimes in this country will not be reduced to the nation's credit until the law makes crime too hazardous to be popular.

Prohibition as practiced now has a great effect on this question and until a more effective means is developed to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment or a new program is put to work, it is questionable whether crime through all its diverging channels will be lessened.

DO YOU LIVE DANGEROUSLY?

To get the fullest out of life, in fact to live, means that we must live dangerously. The substance of this remark, asserted by Sir Arthur Keith, a British scientist, carries with it the wisdom that only persons of experience will recognize. As we become mature and start out in life, there seems one dominating thing that comes to us all, namely safety seems the ideal. If we could just do things safely, we feel we would be happy. Soon however, the time passes and we find there is no such thing after all as absolute safety. For instance, in marriage, is there a hazard involved. Yet the chance of a successful outcome, we all will agree, is worth far more than all the risk.

Then children come, sickness may overtake—oh, so many things dangerous may happen to them. They may go wrong—they may disgrace you—yet again, is the risk worth while.

"I SEE BY THE PAPERS"

We all do. It's a national habit. Newspapers open and close the day. They are a vital part of our daily existence. Take them from us and the wheels of progress stop. We must have the news.

And news about merchandise ranks with news about current events. As a matter of fact, it is even more personal. It concerns you and your daily needs. Food, Clothing, Shelter, Household necessities.

The newspapers bring you this vital news of merchandise. The advertising columns of this paper are a business guide-book, to guide both foot-steps and expenditures. They tell you what tell you who, and show you where. Points of the family purse.

Read the advertisements.

Every day. Buried in small type may be a bargain that was born for you especially, now before you go to buy, just what you want and what you will have to pay for it.

"I buy by the papers" is the twin of "I see by the papers." You consult a time-table to see what train to take. Consult this newspaper to see what goods to buy.—Brookville Star.

THE SMITH FAMILY LEADS

A national wide search of both city and telephone directories in the United States shows that the Smith family leads all others in number. The Johnsons come as a close second and the Browns are third. This information was obtained by the Public Relations Department of the United States Capitol. Investigations show that there are at least 1,300,000 Smiths in America, following by 1,000,000 Johnsons and 730,000 Browns. Then came the Williams' and Jones' with 685,000 and 658,000 respectively. The Miller's according to this unofficial census produced 626,000 and the Davis' 583,000.

Cream shipments from Cameron are now bringing big returns to farmers. This industry will be greatly increased when the cheese factory is completed, plans for the operation of which are maturing for October 15 provided the stock is subscribed. All such industries help to relieve the farmers from cotton poverty.

Encouraging signs of progress everywhere. Home owners are building curbs and preparing for a better kind of paving. This column feels sure that some misunderstanding may arise about the street-paving program now under way unless some explanation is made. The type street improvement contracted for by the city is not paving but bituminous surfacing such as given public highways. Where this treatment extends from curb to curb the costs will be higher. The original contract called for a 20 foot treatment in street center. We cannot evade the conclusion that a half inch asphalt pavement would have been more satisfactory in the end.

Morris Sheppard, author of the 18th Amendment for prohibition, strongly advocates the election of Governor Smith. Senator Sheppard is a Democrat and takes the Christian Temperance Union to task in a letter to Mrs. De Van Watts. The senator quotes the words of Governor Smith in his approval message of the repeal of the state enforcement law. Of the Volstead Act Governor Smith said, "The sacred responsibility of sustaining the Volstead Act with as much force and as much vigor as they would enforce any state law or local ordinance," and that he would expect "the discharge of that duty in the fullest measure by every peace officer in the state." Concluding Senator Sheppard says: "You say that you regret my present stand. You can not regret my stand for democracy more than I regret your stand for the Republican party whose continued rule, hopelessly saturated with corruption, in my judgment will destroy the integrity of free government, undermine prohibition and every other safeguard of our civilization."

Alvin Owsley, defeated for the United States Senate in the July primary has left for New York to take a schedule of speaking dates for the national Democratic ticket. Mr. Owsley proclaimed his support of Governor Smith while running for senatorial nomination and is proving his faith in the hour of defeat by taking the national stage of action. Tom Connelly who received the nomination has tendered his services and with these two Texans along with others the lone star state will be well represented among the evanges of democracy in the coming campaign. Governor Moody of Texas, it is noted will soon begin speaking for Governor Smith in Texas. Mr. Moody is popular with Texas electorate and his speaking tours will do much for the success of our nominees in Texas.

RECREATIONAL

Cameron Herald: Editor Cooke of the Rockdale Reporter suggests a way for this editor to get more out of life. He says that golf and other recreations should be adopted with less serious thought to politics. The country can be saved as well on the golf links as by writing political editorials.

Editor White rejoins that his political editorials seem to be a necessary contribution to salvation. And if he is really interested in salvation, perhaps he had best get his recreation playing poker, rather than golf. Golf can do a great deal for the physical man; but next to nothing for his soul. One cuppy lie, one twenty-foot bounce of a long tee shot into a trap inserted on the course by some preverted son of Belial can set a man back fifty years on the road to grace. The customers might like Editor Cooke's prescription, but how about Sub S. P.'s boss and J. B. White's boss or bosses as the case may be? It is all right for John Esten Cooke. He sits around and works for himself when he works at all. He says to himself, I could write a lovely editorial about Rockdale this and that but in the meantime I can whale a whole lot better drive off the first tee. So he forgets the editorial and goes out and dallies around a golf course. But what if Sub S. P. has the same thought and pursues the same line of action? Yea. What if Sub S. P. does not attend to his chores and plays golf and his bosses who are all nice and kindly gentlemen approve of it and tell him to keep on playing golf and don't take trouble to waste time coming around on Tuesday, which is an important day in this organization? The country man can be saved on the golf course, perhaps, but what is being saved there is being spent for caddy fees, for golf balls, for membership dues and what not. John Esten Cooke probably hasn't saved anything on a golf course except a lot of scores that will not bear repetition in the company of golfers. And on the golf course he has learned some words that Sub S. P. and other hard-working non-golfing editors do not use. They are used by evangelists like Billy Sunday, but he don't use them the same way a golfer does. Billy thinks the golfers are going where they sometimes tell the ball, the caddy and the world to go to.—State Press, Dallas News.

Schools

forced to get their daily bread by their daily labor. Ignorance, or the want of knowledge and literature, the appointed lot of all born to poverty, and the drudgeries of life, is the only opiate capable of infusing that insensibility which can enable them to endure the miseries of the one and the fatigues of the other. It is a cordial administered by the gracious hand of Providence of which they ought never to be deprived by an ill-judged and improper education. It is the basis of all subordination, the support of society and the privilege of individuals.

Fortunately, the masses of the people today agree rather with the sentiment expressed by a writer in the good year 1928, who says: "Industry and purpose, rather than caste or wealth, are the keys that should open the doors of educational opportunity in a democracy. Every child, regardless of wealth or social position, is entitled to an educational environment in which he may develop his capacity to the utmost limit." To this end, the doors of our public educational institutions should be kept open, from the kindergarten to the university, to every youth who will profit by the advantages offered him.

Sixth. We should remember that the American public school is getting results. In 1870, 3 children in every 10 from 5 to 18 years of age were enrolled in the public schools. In 1927, in every 10 of these ages, 9 were in daily attendance. The states with the best schools have the lowest percentage of illiteracy, the highest magazine and library book circulation, and rank highest in characteristics indicative of solid educational attainment.

Seventh. The aims of the schools are fundamentally sound. These are the objectives toward which 845,000 American public school teachers are daily striving as they work with the nation's 25,000,000 children: 1. Sound health; 2. Worthy home membership; 3. Mastery of the tools of learning; 4. Good citizenship; 5. Vocational efficiency; 6. Wise use of leisure; 7. Ethical character.

In conclusion, let it be said that school attendance is not a magic wand, the mystic waving of which will call forth the genius of success and happiness and high achievement. It is rather the opportunity for the full and free development of the individual in the best environment that we have yet been able to create. Education is rather a guarantee against the enemies of pessimism, greed, selfishness, intolerance, uncontrolled passion and sheer ignorance with all its tendencies toward human degradation and despair.

We put shock-absorbers on our automobiles to add to the comforts of riding; we equip them with emergency brakes to avoid accidents. Following the laws of health we build up a physical resistance to give us immunity from disease. In business we build up a cash reserve to guard the future of the corporation. We need a similar reserve fund in our cultural existence. Education is a fertile source of supply; it can fortify youth at every turn. It can be a stronghold of mental and physical stamina, a reservoir of resourcefulness.

Lesson for September 9

PAUL IN ATHENS AND CORINTH.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 17:16-18:11.
GOLDEN TEXT—For I determined not to know anything among you save Jesus Christ and Him crucified.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Tells of Jesus in Two Great Cities.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Tells of Jesus in Two Great Cities.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Paul As a Worker.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul, Preacher and Teacher.

1. Paul Disputing with the Athenians (vv. 16-21).

1. The occasion (v. 16).

While waiting for Timothy and Silas, Paul saw the city of Athens wholly given to idolatry. This stirred his spirit. It is the consciousness of the world's lost condition that impels disciples to witness of Christ's saving power.

2. The place (vv. 17-21).

(1) In the synagogue (v. 17).

True to his custom Paul went into the Jewish synagogue and entered in to earnest argument with the Jews and the devout persons there.

(2) In the market place (v. 21).

From the Jews he turned to such as were found in the market place. Here he came into touch with the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers. The former were atheistic materialists, denying the doctrine of creation and giving themselves up to sensual indulgence, rejecting the idea of a future judgment. The latter were pantheists. When they heard the preaching of Paul they invited him to the Areopagus to speak to them of this new doctrine.

II. Paul's Address on Mars' Hill (vv. 22-34).

1. The introduction (vv. 22-23).

He introduces his discourse in a courteous and conciliatory manner saying that as he was viewing their city he beheld an altar with an inscription "to the unknown God." This was his point of contact.

2. The body of his discourse (vv. 24-31).

(1) A declaration concerning God (vv. 24, 25).

a. The material universe was created by Him (v. 24).

b. His spirituality and immensity (v. 24). Being essentially spiritual He demands heart worship, and being transcendent He is not confined to earthly temples.

c. His active providence (v. 25). He gives being, bestows native gifts, and as Sovereign directs all things.

(2) A declaration concerning man (vv. 26-31).

a. He is the offspring of God (v. 29). Since men are His offspring and bear His likeness, it is utterly folly to make images to Him.

b. Nations have their place by God's purpose (v. 26).

c. Men should seek God (v. 27).

d. The present obligation to repent (vv. 26, 31).

3. The results of Paul's address (vv. 32, 34).

(1) Some mocked (v. 32).

(2) Some procrastinated (v. 32).

(3) Some believed (v. 34).

III. Paul in Corinth (Acts 18:1-11).

Paul came to Corinth a stranger. His method of gaining a foothold is worthy of note. His first task was to find a home (v. 2). His second was to earn his daily bread (v. 3).

1. Preaching in the synagogue at Corinth (vv. 4-8).

(1) Time of (v. 4).

Every Sabbath day.

(2) Encouraged by the coming of Silas and Timothy (v. 5).

(3) Opposition to Paul (v. 6).

As he increased his activity, opposition also increased.

(4) The purpose to turn to the Gentiles (v. 6).

Because of their blasphemy and opposition he ceased work among the Jews.

(5) He did not go far away (v. 7).

He remained sufficiently near so that those whose hearts God had touched could easily find him.

(6) His success (v. 8).

Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, was converted and Paul departed from his usual custom and baptized him (1 Cor. 1:14). Many others also believed.

3. Paul's vision (vv. 9-11).

His experiences since coming to Europe were very trying, therefore he needed encouragement. It is just like the Lord to come when His servant has the greatest need. Note the Lord's words:

(1) "Be not afraid."

(2) "Speak and hold not thy peace."

(3) "I am with thee."

(4) "No man shall set on thee to hurt thee."

(5) "I have much people in this city."

Leaves Its Benediction.

Every deed of kindness or unselfishness that we perform with love in our hearts for Christ, though it bless no other soul in all the wide world, leaves its benediction on ourselves.—J. R. Miller.

Ever Present

The God of Israel, the Savior, is sometimes a God that hideth Himself, but never a God that absenteth Himself; sometimes in the dark, but never at a distance.—Mat. xxv Henry.

START NOW TO CULL HENS FOR DEMONSTRATION

Vacation time is over and it is time to begin on winter work. There is no better time for getting rid of the boarders on the time than now. At this time when feed is scarce farms should be rid of every hen that is not more than paying her upkeep. If you have thoroughbred hens with fine egg records, you can afford to buy feed, because the chickens will feed you by paying your grocery bill. Let everyone get busy and cull out the non-layers from your flocks and make your flocks worth while.

Anyone desiring culling demonstrations during September, October or November, notify the County or Home Demonstration Agent at Cameron and as soon as they give you a date, invite all your neighbors in so that they may reach as many people as possible at one time, making the demonstration worth something to your community.

Those expecting to exhibit fowls in the poultry show will find it profitable to begin culling now.

The 'Who's Who' of Banking

Only a few people have the honor of a place in "Who's Who."

Texas and Texans

By Will H. Mayes

Texas Banks Prosperous

According to the report of the controller of the currency, Texas banks are in an unusually prosperous condition. During the past year they have had $25,081,000 loaned on farm lands and $22,744,000 on real estate other than farm lands. They were heavy investors in state, county and municipal bonds, having $20,065,000 in this class of securities, while they held $123,148,000 in government securities. The enormous sum of $288,746,000 was placed in time loans with $30,567,000 on demand loans not secured by collateral. Texas banks ranked third in the country in farm loans; California being first and Nebraska second. The report not only indicates the good condition of the banks, but shows that Texas agriculture and business was on a most satisfactory basis.

American Legion Convention

The eyes of the nation will be on Texas in October when the American Legionnaires will hold their annual convention at San Antonio. The state has received much national notice this year from the convention of the Women's Federated Clubs at San Antonio and the National Democratic Convention at Houston, as well as from other smaller nation-wide conventions, but it is doubtful if all of these combined will attract as much favorable attention to Texas as the gathering of the veterans of the World's War. The ex-soldiers will come to Texas by the thousands and most of them will come for a tourist outing as well as for the meetings of the Legionnaires. They will come to see Texas and, to learn more about this State of which they have had many favorable reports. Texas should be ready with a glad welcome and should be prepared to show the State at its best.

Persistency Wins

A year ago most Texans thought it necessary to go to Colorado or Yellowstone Park or some other picturesque part of the country for a summer vacation. The churches held their summer assemblies, their young people's meetings and their chautauquas in distant states. Boys' and girls' camp schools in other states were patronized to the exclusion of the few camps then in Texas. When a Presbyterian assembly was first held at Kerrville it was poorly patronized for the sole reason that Texans thought they had to leave Texas to be comfortable in the summer. Kerrville kept on with its effort to make the people know they could find at Kerrville many comforts not found outside the State. More summer camps were established; other churches and young people's organizations became interested. Other places in the Hill country, seeing what was being done at Kerrville, began to bid for summer visitors. Newspaper readers soon noticed that many Texans were spending their summer vacations at the Hill country resorts and were having as good times as those who traveled far for pleasure. It is now quite the proper thing for Texans to spend their vacations in Texas and Kerrville is entitled to a large part of the credit for his feeling.

Selling Texas Saddles

The Kingsville Lumber Company has a leather department in which it makes saddles that have become known through the country. Recently an order for saddles came from Honduras. The company has shipped saddles to the Canadian Northwest, to Australia, to Mexico, to South and Central America and to the West Indies. Why shouldn't Texas supply a great part of the world with saddles? Texas has the cattle and produces the hides; it has saddle makers as expert as can be found in the world. While we are trying to secure industries that cost millions of dollars, we are overlooking one that needs only well organized effort and a reasonable amount of capital to make it world-famous.

Texas Made Hats

Not a great many Texans know that there is a hat factory at Laredo that is engaged in making straw and plant-fibre hats. Most of these are patterned after the Mexican sombrero and are sold largely as novelties in the Eastern markets and to visitors to the Mexican border, but the fact that they are made and sold creates the suggestion that there is no reason why Texas, in considering industrial possibilities should not give some study to the manufacture of hats of all kinds. Is there any good reason why hats may not be made in Texas, both straw and woolen hats, as economically as anywhere else in the country?

Pinto Bean Crop

More than 4,000 acres have been planted to pinto beans near Big Spring in the last month. The crop is expected to be a bumper one. Pinto beans are always sold on a good market and it is surprising that a larger acreage is not planted in Texas.

Harrison County Cows

Over 500 fine dairy cattle have been brought to Harrison County, in the last few weeks and placed with farmers interested in supplying milk to the milk plant at Marshall. Farmers are buying the best pedigreed stock with records for milk and cream production.

Fall Watermelons

Midland farmers have planted watermelons late enough in the season to have them ripening for the markets in September and October, a time when the melon market is never crowded. Experiments have shown that in good seasons the late melons prove more profitable than those marketed earlier in competition with the regular crop.

Gas Celebrations

Hamlin and Lamesa are among the North Texas towns that have recently secured natural gas and have held celebrations because of it. Natural gas adds so much to the comfort of a people and is such a powerful factor in the building up of industries that communities securing it are justified in holding monster celebrations to show their progress.

Waco-Port Arthur Road

It is announced that arrangements have been made to finance the proposed railroad from Waco to Port Arthur and that the plans will be submitted at once to the Interstate Commerce Commission. They call for construction of 105 miles of road, with the use of parts of other lines as connecting links. Col. R. C. Duff of Houston has been at work on this project for years.

Wool and Mohair

Reports from the ranch sections of Texas indicate that the fall clips of wool and mohair will be in excess of the spring clip and the prices will be satisfactory. Herds of both sheep and goats are increasing in Texas and range conditions have never been better.

HUTCHERSON HEADS THE BAYLOR FINANCIAL DRIVE IN MILAM COUNTY

Waco, Texas, Sept 6.—To lift the strangling debt of Baylor University from around the neck of Texas Bapttist, the Greater Baylor University campaign for $2,000,000 in the state at large is in full force and workers all over the state are busy organizing districts for special campaigns.

Loyal Baptist leaders and Baylor alumni are being chosen to serve as district and Baptist associational chairmen who will lead the drive in their own communities. They will secure city chairmen to carry out the general campaign plan, every detail of which leads forward to the popular drive from Nov. 16 to Nov. 23.

Rev. E. S. Hutcherson of Cameron has accepted the association chairmanship of the Milam County Association and has already begun active work in organization. He is an outstanding Baptist leader of that section and will be influential in the promotion of the campaign.

Removal of the debt against Baylor will relieve Texas Baptists of the bulk of the state denominational debt. The campaign's success really means $4,300,000 for the university for Dallas and Waco have promised a gift of $1,000,000 each and the General Education Board will make a gift of $300,000 when Baylor's endowment is increased. Campaign money will be used for retirement of indebtedness and to create additional endowment.

Charles Jeffrey Pruitt and Frank Pruitt of Round Rock are visiting in the home of their uncle, M. N. Killian this week.

MRS. SLOCOMB ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Guy Slocumb entertained with a party at her home Thursday evening at eight o'clock, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Lavo Wiggenghoff of San Marcos. Mrs. Wiggenghoff was formerly Miss Nora Adams. The hostess conducted a lively set of games. Mr. Wiggenghoff and Miss Radtke received the prizes for being the most successful in the lettering contest. After the games the couples gathered around the piano and with Miss Mable Wade playing, they joined in the singing of popular songs.

The hostess assisted by Miss Doris Adams, served her guests to frozen peaches and angel food squares. From the reception room guests were ushered to the dining room where they were served iced fruit punch.

Personal of the party follows: Mr. and Mrs. Wiggenghoff, Lorene Plentl, Gilford Thweatt, Lorene Wade, Benny Archer, Mable Wade, Burt Nicholson, Edna Radtke, Irene Torno, Doris Adams and Vernon Slocumb.

J. J. WALDEN TRAINED FOR BIG POSITION

Mr. J. J. Walden is the sole owner of the Southwestern Engraving Company of Fort Worth, Texas, and the principal stockholder of plants by the same name in Dallas, Houston, Wichita Falls, Tulsa, Oklahoma and Atlanta, Georgia. His annual income is very large and he is rated to be worth over $125,000.00.

This income and this rating were not handed to Mr. Walden on a silver platter. Indeed, a few years ago—when he was 16 years of age and lived at Itasca, Texas—he stood just where hundreds of thousands of young people stand today; without money, without influential friends, without even a high school training.

But, unlike many others, he didn't spend any time bemoaning his handicaps. He quickly discovered that without special ability of any kind he wouldn't have a ghost of a chance ever to rise above the ranks of muscle workers. Observation showed him that it was in the world of business where the biggest incomes were made—where opportunities were most abundant. All that stood between him and these opportunities was his lack of a business training.

"When the fourth of May rolls 'round, I always feel like celebrating," says Mr. Walden. "It was on that date that I enrolled at Tyler Commercial College, Tyler, Texas. Just six months after, November 4, I had graduated in Bookkeeping and Short-hand and other subjects."

"My starting salary was small indeed compared to what we now pay T. C. C. graduates who come to our offices. But the salary itself was secondary, just as it is today. The big thing Tyler Commercial College training did for me was to give me a wealth of opportunities. I was soon making enough to enable me to lay away quite a bit. So, when my chance came to go into business for myself, I was ready—both with money and experience."

DEMOCRATIC LEAD APPEALS FOR FULL VOTE THIS YEAR

Don Offers Opportunity to Register Views on Many Important Issues.

ALL SHOULD PARTICIPATE

Deploring Fact Only Half of Electorate
Usually Goes to Polls—No Excuse for Absentees.

(This is the first of a series of statements on campaign issues by the chairman of the Democratic National Committee.)

By John J. Raskob

Nothing is more important to the future of America than that our citizens manifest their own interest in its future by voting. We must deplore the fact that in the last presidential election, of fifty-four million qualified voters, only about fifty per cent cast their votes. This year, it is anticipated that there will be fifty-six million qualified voters in the country, and I hope and urge that the great proportion of them will take advantage of the Voting Right. It is a sad commentary on our democracy that Germany, with only half of our population, saw two million more votes cast at its election for president than the United States in 1924. We are generally behind other countries in the voting record, although in foreign countries the voting franchise has been a comparatively recent exercise of sovereignty by the citizen. It is commendable that both parties this year are making earnest endeavors to have enrolled a very large vote. If an administration is to function well and to decide wisely on important issues, it should be governed by public opinion. We certainly do not get the public opinion of the United States when only fifty per cent of the qualified voters appear at the polls. The time to record either satisfaction or disapproval of officials is on Election Day. Grumbling about our public servants on other days of the year is largely a waste of time.

Minority Government

We do not want to see here a government of all the people by fifty per cent of the people. We have been having a government by only a majority within the fifty per cent, which is far less than the actual majority of the qualified voters.

This coming election will afford the people an opportunity to register their views in no uncertain way on some fundamental issues. Neither of the candidates, if elected, would feel primed for acting as Chief Executive if only a portion of fifty per cent of the voters is responsible for his certificate of election.

In 1924 Mr. Coolidge received fifteen million, seven hundred and twenty-five thousand and sixteen votes. Mr. Davis received eight million, three hundred and eighty-four thousand, six hundred and twenty-four votes. Mr. La Follette received four million, eight hundred and thirty thousand and four hundred and seventy-eight votes. And there were scattered one hundred and fifty-seven thousand votes. The total vote was only twenty-nine million, ninety-nine thousand, one hundred and thirty-one. There were qualified to vote in 1924 fifty-four million, one hundred twenty-eight thousand, eight hundred and ninety-five. So that Mr. Coolidge, who was elected President, only received a little more than one-fourth of the qualified votes of the country.

Research into this neglect of voting by the people of the United States has led our legislative bodies into taking action in order to develop a greater vote. The principal measures in this line have been the various laws made by the states for "absentee voting." Forty-five of the forty-eight states have made provisions so that absentees from these states may cast their ballots.

For every one hundred votes cast for President in 1920, there were ninety-six who could vote but did not. This is no way to elect a President of the United States, who, under our Constitution, is given more power than any one human being in the world.

Remember, this campaign will be the most stirring in the history of American politics. There is no American who does not want to take part in it. In many instances heretofore the race has been very close. Under our Electoral College system of selecting a president, one state may decide the result. In that state, a few votes either way may determine the entire election. One man's vote is as good as another man's vote. The quality known as Americanism is demonstrated to a mathematical certainty at the polls. Your vote is valuable. Do not throw it away. If a debtor owed you money, and you were away on the due date, you would make arrangements for him to transmit your money to you when ever you might be. You can make a similar arrangement in regard to the vote.

Absentee Voting Simple

Voting under the absentee voting laws is made simple and requires but little effort. Let your government hear from you no matter where you are on Election Day.

The candidates will struggle incessantly in making an appeal for your vote. They are at least entitled to expect you to exercise your franchise. Strong men are running. Great issues fill the air. It will be up to you to pass judgment and you cannot do it if you fail to register. The American vote has a background of bloody sacrifice by the Great Americans of all our Wars. If you choose to be voteless, they have sacrificed to that extent, in vain.

After a terrible struggle, the franchise was granted to the women of America. In the 1920 election it is estimated that the women cast thirty-seven per cent of the total vote; and forty-three per cent of the women qualified to vote actually voted. In only a few of the states did the women cast fifty per cent or more of their voting strength.

The issues presented at the coming election will be of intense interest to the women of the land. The cost of living, employment, freedom of conscience, religious liberty and equal opportunity should attract a great majority of the women to register and to vote.

Casts Portion of Vote

Every man and woman who votes and does not encourage the other members of their families to do likewise only casts a portion of a vote.

Working women have a vast interest at stake in the election. Governor Smith stands as the champion of human rights and welfare of the working women. Of no other accomplishment is he prouder than of the success attending his efforts in the State of New York to better the conditions of women in industry. As President, he would have a tremendous influence on national legislation towards the same end. I trust the women will appreciate his services in this respect by their registration and vote.

REMEMBER, YOU CANNOT VOTE IF YOU DO NOT REGISTER

A Parable --- The Town that Made the Map

In the days that the old men tell about, there dwelt in a certain village, three groups of men—the timid men, the modest men, and the self interested men. The timid men said nothing of community improvement, for they feared in their hearts they might lose what trade they had. The modest men had ideas, but they expressed them not, for they despised those who tooted loudly their own horns. The self interested men were satisfied with the way business waxed. And that community was but a wide place in the road.

The young men left for the city, and they told tales about the dead place they had lived in, and said it was a good place to be from.

Then a man with a big idea rose up in their midst and he sold his idea to the modest men, to the timid men, and they boosted so strenuously that the self satisfied men awakened from their lethargy and together all worked to put the place on the map. They builded modern schools, they paved the streets, they started industries, they beautified the village, all men waxed prosperous and the young men stayed home.

No more today, do the citizens of that community complain how dead the town is, no more is it just a wide place in the road. The place is on the map and every individual swears, "It's a grand town to live in."
